

A famous singer in Brazil once fall into obliviousness, later on an interested fan asked him why and the answer was 'surprising': "we (his band) had so many shows derived out of our success that we did not have enough time to contemplate the moon".

-Fellow scientists and academics, in agreement with others before me, it is my belief that "The Red Queen has to marry the Court Jester!".

Thus, let's contemplate the moon before writing our next papers!
